

V Research, Investigation and Teaching: A Survey of the International Scene

Research, investigation, teaching and religious activities related to the paranormal in various countries and continents are summarized in this section. Although space will not permit a detailed listing of every organization and activity, we have sought to include a representative list of universities, institutes, foundations and individuals involved in some aspect of research or teaching in parapsychology.

The quality of research cannot always be judged by the size of the grant made to the project, even though it is obvious that extensive research is impossible without the necessary resources, whether they come from government, private foundations or individuals.

In most instances, we have only listed the country and the types of activity reported. In some cases, where more detailed information is available and space permits, we have briefly described the activities and given the names of one or more key workers involved. The reader or student is encouraged to contact organizations which might provide additional information on the topic of special interest to him or her. Those interested can: (1) subscribe to one or more of the publications listed, (2) consider membership in those organizations which represent their general interest, and (3) contribute or make bequests to those foundations and institutions which they think can best help to promote research and education in their area of special interest.

The information which follows comes largely from one or more of these sources:

Philippines: The Parapsychological Research Society of the Philippines is located at 3 Consolacion Building, Cubao, Quezon City, L.A.A. An alt lists 50 organizations for the Philippines, many of them local societies or centres related to the Union Espiritista Cristiana de Filipinas. The Philippines have received considerable attention in European and American parapsychological circles in recent years as reports continue to come from those who say they were healed or helped by psychic healers or "psychic surgeons". Paul Affolter of Liestal, Switzerland, has visited the Philippines several times and reports he was successfully "operated" on for a cataract of the right eye, a growth on the spine and a tumour on his leg. He states there are at least several hundred healers in the islands. He has the names and addresses of twenty-eight. Prof. Werner Schiebeler, Ravensburg, Germany, in March 1973, filmed "psychic surgery" performed by ten native healers in various parts of the Philippines.

Among the names that appear most frequently in connection with the Philippine healers are Ading, Agpaoa, Blanche, Gutierrez, Mercado and Terte.

England

Whenever one takes a look at the history of research in the paranormal and the psychics of outstanding ability, Great Britain ranks at the top of the list. The list is too long to reproduce in full, but a sampling of this rich history is conveyed by the following names. Prof. C. D. Broad, Dr. Hereward Carrington, Sir William Crookes, Geraldine Cummins, Arthur Conan Doyle, Edmund Gurney, D. D. Home, Frederick Hudson, Gladys Osborne Leonard, Sir Oliver Lodge, Stainton Moses, Frederick W. H. Myers, Frank Podmore, H. H. Price, Estelle Roberts, W. T. Stead, Hannen Swaffer, Henry Sidgwick, Jack Webber. In more recent years, the following are among those who have had an important role in the psychic field: Maurice Barbanell, Rosemary Brown, George Chapman, Shaw Desmond, Harry Edwards, Leslie Flint, Dr. Arthur Guirdham, Prof. Sir Alister Hardy, Bertha Harris, Benson Herbert, Gordon Higginson, Tom Johanson, Douglas Johnson, Gordon Turner, Ena Twigg, David Young.

Although England has had a longer history and tradition related to the psychic, its institutions of higher learning have been slower to undertake serious studies of the paranormal than has been the case in the United States, India, Japan and several other countries of Europe.

King's College, London, John Taylor, Professor Mathematics.

Sir Alister Hardy, Professor Emeritus in Zoology, heads a Religious Experience Research Unit at Manchester College, Oxford.

Moor Park College at Farnham, Surrey offers short courses on psychic phenomena.

On May 30, 1972, The Guardian reported that the University of Surrey was about "to appoint a professor of philosophy with a difference: 'to be well-grounded in philosophy and with real knowledge (not to be confused with mere information) of parapsychology, of depth psychology and of some of the psychological systems of the East.'" The Vice Chancellor, Dr. D. M. A. Leggett, has shown a genuine interest in the field.

Colleges and societies with either a religious or a research orientation concerning the psychic include:

Arthur Findlay College, Stansted Hall, Stansted, Montfitchet, Essex.

When Mr. Findlay gifted this house with its broad acres and beautiful surroundings, he sought to provide a place for the advancement of psychic science and a place for spiritual healing. The college has a well-stocked library and comfortable rooms for conferences, weekend schools and special study courses.

The Churches' Fellowship for Psychical and Spiritual Studies (Temporary Address) St. Mary Abchurch, Abchurch Lane, London EC4N 7BA.

Founded in 1953 by a group of clergymen and laymen interested in psychical research and its relevance to the Christian faith and life, the organization is international in scope. The British organization has ten regions. These sponsor lectures, public meetings, conferences and retreats. The minimum annual subscription is £1.50 per year or £2.10 for husband and wife.

The College of Psychic Studies, 16 Queenberry Place, London SW7 (until 1971, called the College of Psychic Science).

Founded in 1884, it is not a college in the sense of conducting examinations and conferring degrees, but in the original sense of a society of persons in the study of a common interest. The College does not seek to commit its members to any particular belief. Its ultimate aim is to "explore evidence for the existence of an objective spiritual world, and the possibility of ordinary men and women on earth to reach an inner knowledge of it, and a valid mental and emotional rapport with it". It sponsors lectures and courses, publishes a quarterly journal, Light, (since 1881), sponsors mediumship demonstrations for private and public sessions and maintains a library of over 10,000 volumes.

International Spiritualist Federation, 14 Fielding Street, Faversham, Kent, England.

Originally organized in 1923, the ISF was reorganized in 1948 after World War II. It has affiliates in Argentina, Great Britain, Brazil, Cuba, China, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Ghana, Guyana, Greece, Holland, Italy, Israel, Jordan, Japan, Mexico, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Switzerland, Sweden, South Africa, Turkey, United States and Venezuela.

National Federation of Spiritual Healers: Harry Edwards, president. Headquarters: Burrows Lea, Guildford, Surrey, England.

Publishes The Spiritual Healer and has just launched a Cancer Research Project. Those interested in co-operating by getting a questionnaire for someone known to have cancer, can write to Gilbert Anderson, "Shortacres", Church Hill, Loughton, Essex. Harry Edwards is convinced that psychosomatic factors are primary causes of cancer.

Paraphysical Laboratory, Downton, Wiltshire, England; Benson Herbert, Director.

A quarterly publication, The Journal of Paraphysics, has been published by the laboratory since 1967. Editor B. Herbert; assistant editor, M. Driver; Research officer, M. Cassirer. This journal is highly recommended for persons interested in a scientific perspective on paranormal phenomena reported from all parts of the world: Kirlian photography, Kulagina experiments in PK in the USSR; Directory of Spontaneous Phenomena, poltergeist forces, UFO's, Holographic and hyperspatial theories of apparitions, etc.

Society for Psychical Research, Inc., 1 Adam and Eve Mews, Kensington, London W8 6UQ.

Established in 1882 by leading scholars interested in the paranormal, SPR has as its purpose "to examine without prejudice or prepossession and in a scientific spirit those faculties of man, real or supposed, which appear to be inexplicable on any generally recognized hypothesis". The Society has maintained a high level of scholarship and its research records and publications provide one of the best sources of information about the paranormal.

Spiritualist Association of Great Britain (S.A.G.B.), 33 Belgrave Square, London SW1.

Headquarters of British Spiritualism, or at least a major part of it, SAGB arranges for private appointments with mediums, classes for members and lectures and demonstrations for non-members as well. Spiritual healing is also available.

Spiritualist National Union (SNU)

Founded in 1890 by a number of prominent Spiritualists in Manchester, to promote the religious philosophy of Spiritualism, SNU also encourages research, certifies lecturers, exponents and teachers; publishes literature, promotes mission work; and operates the Arthur Findley College at Stansted Hall, Essex, given to the SNU by J. Arthur Findley, M.B.E., J.B., to advance the cause of psychic science.

In addition to the Journal of Paraphysics, the Journal of SPR, Light, Quarterly Review of the Churches' Fellowship, and The Spiritual Healer, the following should be noted:

Psychic News, 23 Great Queen Street, London WC2B 5BB. Maurice Barbanell, editor. On the scene since the early 1930's Psychic News has a readership of more than a hundred thousand and carries weekly reports, often spectacular, of new developments on the psychic and spiritualist scene, both at home and abroad. PN also publishes a monthly journal called Two Worlds.

Psychic Researcher and Spiritualist Gazette. The former is published by Van Duren Press, Gerrards Cross, with Peter Bander as editor, the latter is published by the Spiritualist Association of G.B., 33 Belgrave Square, London S.W.1 with Tom Johanson as editor. Germany. Dr. Hans Bender, director of the Institut fuer Grenzgebiete der Psychologie (Border Areas of Psychology) at Eichhalde 12, Freiburg Br., which is a part of the University of Freiburg, is one of the best-known parapsychologists in Europe. Dr. Friedbert Karger, a physicist at the Plasma-Physik Institut at Garching, near Munich, has also done much to interest his scientific colleagues in investigations involving the paranormal.

Historically, Dr. A. Freiherrn von Schrenck-Notzing, Prof. Johann C. F. Zoellner, professor of physics and astronomy, and Dr. Hans Gerloff contributed much from this country to enrich the experiments and investigations of the paranormal. Dr. Werner Schiebeler at the Ravensburg Technical Engineering School, inherited the Gerloff collection of books, literature and paranormal artifacts and is carrying on in the tradition, systematically designing experiments and equipment to measure and record evidence of paranormality.

Others currently involved in one or more aspects of the psychic scene in Germany include:

Frau Hanna Buschbeck, Horb, Co-ordinator of research on taped voices.

Dr. Wolfgang Ehrenburg, Psychophysical Society, Munich.

Dr. Gerda Walther, Diessen, writer on parapsychology.

Germany has its share of enthusiastic supporters and strong antagonists when it comes to integration of paranormal phenomena into existing conceptual frameworks. People like Zoellner and Schrenck-Notzing received both recognition and ridicule for their efforts in exploring the unusual. During the Hitler period everything related to the paranormal which did not fit the goals and ideology of the Third Reich was suppressed or liquidated, although Pauwels and Bergier in The Morning of the Magicians maintain that Hitler himself was clairvoyant and that he surrounded himself with astrologers and prophets. Eric Hanussen, a famous clairvoyant, was assassinated by the Nazis because his ability to "see" their secret projects was a threat to the regime. Today there are societies concerned with dowsing and the use of the pendulum, metaphysical research, yoga, Spiritualism, psycho-physical investigation and psychical and spiritual studies.

Greece has a Society for the Scientific Research of Metaphysics, Rue Athoupolou: 104 Athens, and the Psychic Society of Athens, 32 Tsiller-str. Athens 905, each of which publishes its own periodical.

Holland is best known in parapsychology for the pioneering work of Prof. W. H. C. Tenhaeff, for many years director of the University of Utrecht's parapsychological institute at Springweg 7; and for the accomplishments of the clairvoyant, Gerard Croiset, also of Utrecht. Tenhaeff's work included studies of many other paragnosts in addition to Croiset, but Croiset, by all odds, has achieved the most international recognition for his ability to find lost persons, precognitive tests and laying-on-of-hands healing.

Dr. Martin Johnson of Sweden has recently joined the Institute in Utrecht. Other researchers include Joost A. M. Meerloo, Amsterdam; Dr. J. G. Blom, Amsterdam; George Zorab, The Hague; and G. W. Arendsen Hein, M.D., a psychiatrist at Edeveen.

United States

In the States most research is done by individuals connected with universities, societies or foundations and most teaching is done through universities and colleges, as well as a growing number of high schools and adult education programmes. We have listed, by states, the universities and colleges where teaching or research is done by departments or individuals, or where conferences and seminars on parapsychology are held. Some offer courses for credit:

* See comments by Blewett, Grad and Hoffer in Section IV

others offer non-credit courses and seminars. Societies and foundations, with brief descriptions, are listed in a separate section. The number of institutions beginning work in the field of parapsychology is growing so rapidly that no list can be entirely complete.

U.S. FOUNDATIONS AND INSTITUTES

The Academy of Religion and Psychical Research, Suite 2, 800 Custer Avenue, Evanston, Illinois, 60606, was established in October 1972 through efforts of the Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship. It seeks (1) to encourage dialogue and co-operation between clergy, academics in philosophy and religion and researchers and scientists in parapsychology and related fields, (2) to conduct educational programmes for scholars and the general public, and (3) to work closely with related organizations such as the Parapsychology Association, the American Society for Psychical Research and the Academy of Parapsychology and Medicine.

The Academy of Parapsychology and Medicine, 314 Second Street, Los Altos, Ca. 94022. The Academy was formed in 1970, following a seminar sponsored jointly by the Lockheed Management Association and three institutions of higher learning in the San Francisco Bay area. Its long-range goal is to attempt to discover the conditions under which total healing—spiritual, mental, emotional and physical—is possible. As many as 1,400 professionals have attended its symposia held in various parts of the country to explore paranormal and unorthodox healing. Robert A. Bradley, M.D., Denver, is its first president. Dues are $15 per year for associate membership and higher dues for participating and sponsoring members.

American Society for Psychical Research, 5 West 73rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10023. Started in 1885, it serves as one of the major research organizations dealing with paranormal phenomena. Its research standards are rigorous and its investigations are well-documented. The annual membership fee of $15 entitles the member to its Journal, Proceedings and ASPR Newsletter, and access to its extensive library.

Association for Research and Enlightenment, Virginia Beach, Virginia, is the organization which provides access to the almost fifteen thousand telepathic-clairvoyant readings recorded during Edgar Cayce's lifetime. The material has been classified and cross-referenced and has provided the basic source material for writers who have produced dozens of books which interpret or explain the Cayce readings. The A.R.E. sponsors lecture series and courses and encourages study circles which are based on the Cayce materials.

The Backster Research Foundation, Inc., 165 West 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10036. Cleve Backster, a professional who uses and trains others to use the polygraph (lie detector) instruments, discovered that plants and other forms of life produce measurable responses which can best be characterized as similar to emotional states or feelings in humans or in other organisms. Backster writes and lectures on his findings and set up (1963) a foundation to make further research possible. Other investigators and about 20 universities are reported trying to replicate his work. Dr. Aristide Esser and Dr. Marcel Vogel report tentative corroboration of his findings.

EDMA Corporation, a business enterprise organized by Edgar D. Mitchell (the astronaut who carried out an ESP experiment on the Apollo XIV moon-flight) and his associates in 1972, will sponsor scientific and scholarly research in parapsychology, parapsysics, transpersonal psychology, ecology and other fields which will improve the quality of life on planet Earth. The corporation will market inventions and products which are compatible with its objectives. EDMA has received substantial support from professional, business and scientific people. Mitchell has since stepped down as chief operating officer of EDMA to take responsibilities in a new foundation, the Institute of Noetic Sciences.

ESP Research Associates Foundation, Inc., Suite 1630, Union National Plaza, Little Rock, Arkansas; 72201, was founded by Harold Sherman, well-known writer and psychic, for "the exploration of the origin and nature of man's sixth sense". The annual Body/Mind/Spirit workshop brings together between 500 and 1,000 attenders to participate in lectures and demonstrations by leaders and researchers in the field of psychic phenomena. Sherman, who has written more than 80 books, has prepared manuals on development of ESP. The foundation has recently undertaken to do further research of the taped voice phenomenon.

Foundation for Research on the Nature of Man (FRNM) also called the Institute for Parapsychology, Box 6847, College Station, Durham, North Carolina 27708, was established by J. B. Rhine after he left his work on Extra Sensory Perception at Duke University. The Foundation also publishes books and provides a bulletin for all who subscribe to its Journal of Parapsychology. Helmut Schmidt, formerly with Boeing Aircraft is now working with FRNM. He is best known for developing the Random Numbers Generator.

Higher Sense Perception Research Foundation, 8668½ Wiltshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, California, was created to assist Dr. Shafica Karagulla in her research with "Higher Sense Perception". President and director is Dr. Karagulla, M.D., who got her D.M. and surgery degree in 1940 from the American University of Beirut, Lebanon. She did her residency at Edinburgh Hospital for Mental and Nervous Disorders under Prof. Sir. David Henderson and became a member of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh, the highest medical qualification in Britain. She is chiefly interested in pursuing study of the energy fields of the human body for clues to the ability of psychics to diagnose illness, etc.

Institute of Noetic Sciences (Noetics—the study of consciousness), 575 Middlefield Road, Palo Alto, California 94301. This non-profit public foundation was founded by Edgar D. Mitchell and other associates to assume the research, educational and philanthropic functions which previously were part of the EDMA Corporation which is now strictly a commercial endeavour, emphasizing products and services in keeping with the philosophy of helping people and the planet. Edgar Mitchell is president of INS. The newsletter is available only to members.

Life Energies Research, Inc., 563 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10021, established in 1953 as an informal center for leaders in medicine, psychiatry, the basic sciences, philosophy and theology to carry on "wide ranging discussions of the paranormal aspects of human experience". It was incorporated in 1968 for scientific research in the nature of "energies that affect and are a part of life . . ." and currently investigations of healing and PK are being given high priority. Dr. Robert W. Laidlaw, a New York psychiatrist, has been one of the pioneers in this effort.

Parapsychological Association (PA) is an international organization of active professionals in parapsychology. The membership is well over 200 in at least 25 countries. The present treasurer is J. G. Pratt, Box 152, University of Virginia Hospital, Charlottesville, Virginia, 22901.

Parapsychology Foundation, Inc., 29 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019, was founded in 1951 by Eileen J. Garrett, internationally known and tested medium, as a non-profit organization to encourage research, study and experiments in the areas of the paranormal which included extrasensory perception, psychokinesis, telepathy, clairvoyance, precognition and related phenomena. PF has an extensive library, publishes books and monographs, and makes modest grants available to persons who are judged qualified to undertake specific research or writing assignments.

Psychical Research Foundation, Inc., Duke Station, Durham, North Carolina 27706, located at 2013-15 Erwin Road, W. G. Roll, Project Director. The Foundation publishes Theta, a bulletin for research on the problem of survival after bodily death. Robert Morris of PRF points out there kinds of experience suggestive of survival, which are important to investigate: transcendental experiences known as OUBEs, astral projection or travelling clairvoyance; possession phenomena, short- or long-lived which can involve the whole body or merely parts such as the hand in automatic writing; and haunting cases such as apparitions or unexplained movement of objects. PRF edits and publishes the proceedings of the Parapsychological Association, conducts symposia, and carries on research within the limits of budget.

Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship, Inc., 800 Center Avenue, Suite 1, Evanston, Illinois 60202. Founded in 1956 with encouragement from the medium, Arthur Ford, as an interdenominational organization to promote investigation, research, conferences, seminars, etc., designed to explore the relevance of paranormal phenomena to the religious experience. SFF has grown steadily. Membership dues, ranging from $12.50 for individual membership to $500 for a life membership are the main support of the Fellowship. SFF publishes a newsletter and a quarterly journal and has an extensive library of books and tapes.

Survival Research Foundation, P.O. Box 50466, Tucson, Arizona 85705. Susy Smith, psychic and author, is president of this foundation, established in September 1971. Together with Martin Ebon, chairman, and eleven other trustees, SRF seeks to conduct, subsidize and assist in procuring scientific evidence of conscious survival of the human soul or spirit after death, and to establish the results of the research as worthy of public consideration. Memberships range from $10 to $500.

SOUTH AMERICA—LATIN AMERICA

In Latin America, Costa Rica, Cuba, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Puerto Rico and Trinidad report activity with a religious and/or research emphasis. Puerto Rico has an Institute of Parapsychology at 562 Trigo Street, Santurce; and Trinidad has a Research Centre for Parapsychology at Hotel Scarlet Ibis, Eastern Main Road, St. Augustine, where Dr. Learie Graham does research and publishes Parapsychology News.

All the countries of South America have activities in one or more areas of the paranormal. Those with the greatest activity are:

Argentina. The 1973 I.A.A. Anstalt directory lists 134 organizations and 20 publications. Parapsychological associations include: Asociacion Argentina de Psicosinteris, Juncal 2061, 1B, Buenos Aires (Dr. Juan Alcandri).
 Instituto Argentino de Parapsicologia, Viamonte 752 (3rd), Buenos Aires (Dr. J. Ricardo Musso).
 Cuadernos de Parapsicologia, Ramon.

Brazil

I.A.A. Anstalt lists 136 organizations and 78 publications for Brazil, the country which, according to David St. Clair, author of Drum and Candle (Doubleday, New York), has 25 million registered members of spiritist churches and estimates another 25 million "unofficial" followers. Spiritists have their own hospitals in which "regular doctors" are permitted to practice. Jose Pedro de Freitas, nicknamed Arigo, did much to draw world attention to paranormal healing in Brazil, until his death in a car crash, January, 1971. In his case, Dr. Fritz, a deceased German physician (and others) worked through him in curing many "incurable" cases which were investigated before and after treatment.

There are five parapsychology research institutes:

Brazilian Institute for Psychobiophysical Research
 Rua Dr. Diogo de Faria, 239, Sao Paulo.
 Centro de Pesquisas Psicobiofisicas

Venezuela

The Sociedad Espirita de Matafisicos. Sur 5, No. 92, Apt. 4, Caracas. is one of 18 organizations listed for this northwestern country of South America. These have either a religious or a research emphasis.

NOTE: Readers should keep in mind that names and institutions listed in this chapter reflect the situation when the manuscript was being written. Naturally changes in staff and addresses as well as new institutions entering the field are bound to occur from time to time.

VI Suggestions for Teachers and Discussion Leaders

"Knowledge without action is sterile"

Much of our adult life has been involved with some aspect or other of teaching and we are very conscious of the need to use, apply and share knowledge and experience. We are writing, not on the assumption that we have all the answers, but to bring together information, reports and experiences which are fascinating, challenging and intriguing and which, in our opinion, warrant serious consideration. These may encourage you to venture toward new insights and meanings of life.

The rapid growth of literature dealing with the paranormal behooves us to encourage students of all ages to keep an open and a questioning mind about the quality and quantity of the evidence available for, and against, the cases presented. Progress toward a better understanding of man and his environment will only be made if we seek the truth insofar as it is possible to ascertain it and insofar as it has relevance or significance for us as individuals and for mankind.

In writing this book, we have kept in mind that it could be used as a text or guide to further investigation by students or by any interested individual. The growing number of courses, conferences and seminars in parapsychology offered at college and high school levels, especially in the United States (see Chapter V) indicates the increased interest in the psychic. Unfortunately, although there is a wealth of literature about the paranormal, there is little offered in the way of direction, and anyone who undertakes to teach a course, or lead a discussion group certainly should have read more than one book in the field and have some substantial knowledge about the work of researchers and psychics.

Now books about the paranormal and the occult appear daily on the bookshelves. Some present the work of seasoned investigators.
Others are written in popularized style, with little or no documen-

VII References and Documentation

These lists of books, journals and publications are to provide the reader with a variety of sources for further reading which will give him choices based on his interests. The titles are arranged alphabetically by author and coded, in most instances, with one or more letters of the alphabet which are used to designate the subjects treated in the book. A through I follow the subject matter presented in the sections of this book under the same arrangement. More than one letter is used, for instance, when a book is clearly biographical but also primarily describes certain phenomena or other areas of parapsychology.

The list is extensive but by no means complete. Many of the more recent books should be available at book stores or can be ordered from the publishers. Others should be available from libraries and/or from organizations concerned with and interested in psychic phenomena. Foundations and associations listed may also supply additional lists of books and publications.
